The Train May Still Be Around

Commuter rail service may not be at an end in the area and there is a possibility that the once-a-day train may still stop in Andover.

The Andover board of selectmen have scheduled a discussion of the matter for next Monday night's meeting. The possibility exists that the MBTA which provides the daily Boston to Haverhill train, may continue its Andover stop if the selectmen indicate they will again present the matter of train service to the annual town meeting next March.

At the October town meeting earlier this month, Andover voters, by a four-vote margin declined to provide funds for continuing the commuter train service.

Meanwhile the train service to the area seems assured through the efforts of Mayor John J. Buckley of Lawrence and Mayor George Katsouras of Haverhill.

The two mayors met with David Gunn of the MBTA commuter rail division on Tuesday of this week to discuss the continuing of the train to the two cities.

Mayor Buckley reported that he and the Haverhill mayor had agreed that the train service should continue, but that there would be no stops in either North Andover or Andover, which have voted at town meetings not to pay the subsidy.

Buckley also indicated that the train which now runs three Budd cars on the daily run, may be reduced to two cars.

North Andover voted last March to drop the MBTA subsidy it had been paying, but the train has continued to stop in the suburban community.

Gunn, following the Andover town meeting two weeks ago, indicated that the continuance of the train service would be up to the cities of Haverhill and Lawrence.

He did not indicate at the time that the train would be completely pulled off this division.

Apparently now there is indication the service will continue and that the 49 per cent ridership that was gained in Andover, may go to Lawrence for the daily trip to and from Boston.

School Board Group Views Local Action As Being Proper

By Linda S. Corbett

A Massachusetts Association of School Committees spokesman has told the Andover School Committee that it was not obliged to find a spot for former Assistant Superintendent Edward Regan after it failed to re-elect him to that position last spring.

It also said that Regan no longer had tenure as a principal here.

In a letter read to the Andover School Committee Tuesday night, Austin Broadhurst, legal counsel for MASC, said that by accepting his election as assistant superintendent in 1973, Regan had "ceased to have rights" as a principal.

The committee had asked the association last July for a statement on Regan's status, at the same time it requested an opinion from Andover Town Counsel. The latter still hasn't been received.

In other personnel action Tuesday night, the committee denied a request for a leave of absence to Frank Bianco, guidance counselor at Bancroft School, and instructed Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert to explain to Bianco that he could now either resign, or the committee would take action to dismiss him.

Chairman Francis Griggs added that there's another alternative - that Bianco report to work next Monday.

Bianco had requested a one year leave and has taken a one-year position elsewhere. He has not reported to Bancroft since school started.

Seifert Tuesday night refused to make a recommendation on the leave, saying that it was a "unique situation" that could set a precedent, and that he wanted the committee to make that decision.

Olesen noted that Bianco had

Fire Similarities Are Being Studied

Andover police and fire officials are continuing their investigation of seven suspicious fires which have taken place during the past month.

Increased police patrols continue to keep surveillance throughout the town as public safety officials attempt to both prevent further damage by the arsonist, or apprehend the offender.

Investigators have now surmised that there is a distinct possibility that all of the suspicious fires are related and are working on that theory at the moment.

The latest fire caused considerable damage to the home of Atty. and Mrs. Richard Savrann, 11 Sheridan Road last Thursday night. The fire got its start, through incendiary devices at the rear of the home.

The fire was spotted by neighbors who notified fire fighters. The Savranns were not at home at the time of the fire.

The other fires include:

Stevens home and barn on Lovejoy Road in which nine horses were rescued.

The Kirk Barn on Haggetts Pond Road in which four horses perished.

The Bethony home on Central Street.

The Stempel home at 275 Lowell Street.

The Putnam home on Charlotte Drive.

A new home under construction on Enfield Drive.

All have been started with the use of incendiary devices tossed into or against the buildings, according to investigators.

Assisting in the investigation are Sgt. Robert Parker and Detective Donald Mooers of the Andover police, and State Police Lt. Leo Walsh of the fire marshal's office.

Extra police personnel have been used in nightly patrols of the town and the increased surveillance is continuing.

Action on Administrative Salaries Awaits Evaluation

The Andover School Committee Tuesday night postponed possible raises for Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert and Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott, until they are formally evaluated.

The move also delays hikes for other personnel not covered by contracts - Business Manager Edward Weil, Assistant Business Manager Sam Arcidy, and John Hannaford, an audio visual specialist.

Seifert said evaluations of the latter three are on file and action on them could come at the next meeting. Board chairman Francis Griggs said he would prepare formal material on Seifert and Westcott.

Griggs also announced Tuesday night that the 1974-75 teacher's contract has been signed. The raises, averaging about 7.9 per cent overall for step plus negotiated increases, will be reflected in the next pay check. Retroactive increases to the beginning of school will come in a lump sum in the following check.

In other action, Committeeman George Olesen announced that the custodians had agreed on terms for their new contract, and learning disabilities tutors, also not covered by contract, were granted 7.6 per cent pay raises.

The administration had recommended a five per cent hike for Seifert, to bring his salary from $30,363 to $31,881, and a two per cent raise for Westcott. Westcott was hired this fall at $25,000.

Other recommendations would grant Weil a new salary of $19,368, or an increase of 7.6 per cent; Arcidy, $10,000 (11 per cent); and Hannaford, $11,298 (7.6 per cent).

Committeeman John Lyons moved to table action on the

To Honor Veterans At Services

Two Veterans Day services are scheduled by the Andover Patriotic Holiday Committee for Monday, Oct. 25, the first to be held at the Legion Lot in Spring Grove Cemetery at 10:30 a.m.

The second service will be held at 11:30 a.m. at the Shawsheen River bridge, Stevens Street.

This is a change from Veterans Day services of the past which have been scheduled for the one service at 11 a.m. at Spring Grove cemetery.

John L. Lewis, secretary of the Patriotic Holiday Committee reports that the change this year is to pay tribute in a memorial service to naval and marine comrades of all wars lost or buried at sea through the service at the Shawsheen River Bridge.

Participants are scheduled to meet at the Legion Hall at 9:30 a.m. to form a firing squad and color guard for the service.

The two services will be the same. Benjamin M. Brown, commander of Post 219, American Legion will deliver

Tribute To Frost At College

Featured speakers from Yale University, Indiana University and Simmons College will join with the Merrimack College English Department faculty and students in an all-day tribute to the American poet, Robert Frost on Saturday, Oct. 19 in the McQuade Library on Merrimack's North Andover campus.

The day-long symposium, entitled "Robert Frost Day at Merrimack College," will commemorate the Centennial of Frost's birth and will discuss the literary achievements of the former Lawrence and Derry, N.H. poet.

The New England resident from 1885 until his death in 1963, save for a three-year stay in England, Frost was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry with New Hampshire in 1924, Collected Poems in 1931, A Further Range in 1937, and A Witness Tree in 1943. He was awarded the Loines Prize in 1931, the Mark Twain Medal in 1937, the American Academy of Arts and Letters gold medal in 1938, and the Poetry Society of America medal in 1941. Besides his many books of poetry, Frost is remembered by numerous Americans for his unforgettable reading of "The Gift Outright" at the 1961 inauguration of President John F. Kennedy.

The Merrimack College Symposium will begin with a 9:30 a.m. lecture by Dr. Warren French of Indiana University entitled "Frost and Our Energy Crises." A distinguished critic of American Literature, Dr. French is the author of The Social Novel at the End of an Era and A Companion to "The Grapes of Wrath."

A dramatic interpretation and discussion of four Frost poems under the direction of Merrimack College English Prof. Charles Thompson of Groveland will follow at 10:30 a.m. The Frost poems are: "The Code," "The Lovely Shall Be Choosers," "The Witch of Coos," and "Home Burial."

After a luncheon in Gildea Hall, the Frost Symposium will resume with Dr. Marie Borroff of Yale University, who will speak on "Robert Frost: To Earthward." Well-known for both her study and translation into modern verse of "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight," Dr. Borroff published an important contribution to Frost studies in Modern Philology in 1971. Her article in Modern Philology discussed "Robert Frost's Testament: Language and the Poems."

Four group discussions of 19 selected Frost poems involving symposium participants will be held in library seminar rooms from 2 to 3 p.m. Discussion leaders will be Merrimack College English professors: Dr. Kathryn F. Douglass and Dr. Catherine A. Murphy, both of Bradford; Prof. Jean P. Davis of Andover and Prof. John P. Foster of North Andover; Prof. Yvonne Ground of Groveland and Rev. Joseph A. Flaherty, O.S.A.; and, Dr. Geraldine S. Branca of Bradford and Prof. Charles F. Thompson of Groveland.

Dr. George W. Nitchie, English Dept. Chairman at Simmons College, will deliver the symposium's final lecture at 3:30 p.m. He will talk on "Robert Frost: Some Reflections on Poetry and Power." Dr. Nitchie is the author of the significant book on Frost, Human Values in the Poetry of Robert Frost.

Co-ordinators for "Robert Frost Day at Merrimack College" are Merrimack College English Dept. Chairman, Prof. John J. Murphy of North Andover, Prof. Yvonne Ground of Groveland and Prof. Jean P. Davis of Andover.

The Merrimack College English Dept. invites Greater Boston and Merrimack Valley residents to bring along a copy of Frost and participate in "Robert Frost Day at Merrimack College." Registration for the symposium and luncheon can be made by contacting the Merrimack College English Dept. (683-7111, Ext. 268).

Health Center Asks Grant

Larry Chapman, executive director of the Wilmington Regional Health Center announced that the Health Center has submitted a grant application for federal funds for the construction of the center. The grant application was submitted to the State Department of Public Health who administers the grant program for the federal government. The grant program is called the Hill-Burton Health Facilities Construction program and supports a wide array of health facility construction.

The amount requested is $2,317,603 which comprises approximately 90 per cent of the total cost of construction. The decision on the grant will be made by the state Hill-Burton Advisory Committee with the recommendations of the State Health Department staff. The decision on the grant is expected sometime in January or February of next year.

Mr. Chapman indicated that the Hill-Burton grant was one of many sources of funding which were being explored by the Health Center. He also indicated that the many other costs of the health center would have to be supported through contributions from industry, business and residents of the eight towns of Andover, Burlington, Billerica, North Reading, Reading, Tewksbury, Wilmington and Woburn.

Raymond McNamara, president of the Health Center board of directors also announced the appointment of Robert Bennett, a resident of Reading, as the Chairman of the Health Center's Finance Committee. Mr. Bennett stated that "we are presently in the process of organizing a fund raising drive which will approach residents, business and industry in the eight towns and we welcome anyone who would like to help in the fund raising efforts." He further stated that "this is an opportunity for area residents and industry to have an open door health facility in our area... one that can be used by anyone who needs health services at any hour of the day."

Anyone who is interested in helping the Health Center as a volunteer should contact the Health Center at 657-7677 or stop in the Health Center offices at 25 Lowell St., Wilmington.

Sweetest Day To Be Observed

The Andover Center Merchants have officially designated Saturday, Oct. 19 Sweetest Day.

The observance of Sweetest Day has two dimensions - the basic Sweetest Day spirit and the attendant business opportunity.

Sweetest Day has enjoyed its greatest success in the middle west, Detroit, Chicago, and especially Cleveland and northern Ohio. "We want to bring this day to remember the unfortunate, the shut-in and the elderly closer to us," Paul Gmyrek, Chairman of the Center Merchants said. "We have worked hard to build the basic spirit of Sweetest Day, it is an essential day. In addition to providing small gifts to institutionalized adults and youngsters, in the future, it will be expanded into the sponsorship of happiness awards highlighted by civic luncheon honoring local citizens who have given unselfishly of their time and resources to the service of their fellows."

This first year introduction of Sweetest Day to the community will start an awareness of townspeople that there are some of us who need to be remembered.

Open House At East Jr. High

Open House will be held at the East Junior High School on Tuesday, Oct. 22, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. Following a brief report by the school principal, Dr. Richard McGrail, parents will be afforded the opportunity of following their son or daughter's program for a typical school day but on a much abbreviated time basis.

Refreshments, prepared and served by East students, will be available throughout the evening at the school cafeteria. Student Council members will serve as guides.

Homework Policy Stands Despite SAC Protest

Members of Andover High's Student Advisory Council Tuesday night asked the School Committee for changes in the smoking and homework policies, to little avail.

Jane O'Reilly of the policy committee reported that 87 percent of youths polled think there is "no advantage" to the homework policy, begun in September.

"There is general discontent," she said, adding that the many youths feel they're getting busy work that is not necessary to their understanding of a subject.

We feel the majority of high school students are mature enough to know how much work they need to do, she said, and suggested that the teacher to be the one to decide if homework was necessary for the day or not. She also suggested that the teacher to be the one to decide if homework should be part of a grade or not.

Chairman Frank Griggs said that "busy work" was not a part of the school committee's policy. The intent, he added, was not necessarily to have written homework every night.

He said homework could consist of a book to be read in a week, research, and the like.

He said that the policy also had a built-in review, and that the administration would be reporting next month on how much interpretation of the policy was consistent with its intent.

He said no changes would be made until that time.

In response to a request that the committee allow two smoking areas -- both "The Well," in front of the building and the "U" at the rear, instead of just the "U" as now, Griggs said that the youths had come forward with an "empty bucket."

He said the youths had been told to keep their smoking area clean, and hadn't yet proven they could do that.

In reporting on the smoking policy, Dee Morrison said that the "U" was very crowded and that vandalism had resulted. She also said that winter weather might prevent its use, and that the students would then be likely to go elsewhere, such as the rest rooms, to smoke.

Dee also reported that only 30 percent of the youths polled smoke during school hours.

Griggs said that the school committee had not designated which area was to be used for smoking. But if the students can't maintain one, he said, "how can they maintain two?"

Committeeman George Olesen said "What I hear the damage that is being done, I think you may get less smoking room, not more."

The youths, led by SAC Chairman Head Mark Hamilton, did get more favorable reaction to other ideas, however.

The committee asked for further elaboration on an existing program, to improve relations between Andover and other communities. The such activities as ski trips and field trips might be considered, Hamilton said.

Bill Alexander also got positive feedback on a "social discovery" program that would allow high school seniors with enough credits to graduate, to spend their last semester in some meaningful activity in a business or some field of interest.

Ginger Eaton also invited the committee, and the public, to homecoming festivities this weekend, beginning with a hockey game tomorrow afternoon and a rally in the high school gym at 7 tomorrow night. The game with Methuen Saturday afternoon will be the weekend highlights.

School Board

been the spokesman for the Andover Education Association at its April 10 meeting when Regan was dismissed and English Department Head Bill Becker demoted, and asked if Seifert's refusal was "because he's one of the favored boys in the system."

"I think that comment doesn't even deserve an answer," Seifert replied.

Seifert also answered "Yes I do," to an Olesen question if he discusses the possibility of professional advancement within the system even before openings arise, but denied that he had discussed certain possibilities with Bianco.

Seifert said he tells personnel if they have the potential for advancement, and shows them "the series of steps they must go through" to get to a certain spot. "But I never guarantee them anything," he said.

Committeeman William Lane, who commented that a person assumes a certain risk when he tries to advance himself elsewhere, moved to reject Bianco's request for a leave, and Olesen seconded.

In still other personnel action, the committee accepted the resignation of Mrs. Janet McDaniel, first grade teacher at West Elementary, who is moving out of state. That action is effective November 22.

Elected to new positions were Mrs. Janice Cuddy of Andover, secretary in the media distribution center at East Jr. High, and Mrs. Alice Buffington of Concord, guidance teacher at West.

Mrs. Cuddy, who has taken Harvard Extension secretarial courses at Boston University, was a volunteer at South School last year. She previously conducted a playschool for pre-kindergarten children in Wilmington, and was secretary and staff assistant to the research director at the Cabot Corp. in Billerica.

Mrs. Buffington holds B.A. degree from Vassar College, an M.A. from New York University, and an M.Ed. in guidance from Tufts University. She did her practice teaching in guidance in Winchester last year, and previously had been a volunteer counselor at Medford High School, a volunteer at Eastern Middlesex Guidance Center in Melrose, and a board member of the Concord Family Service Society.

Appointments made Tuesday night are as follows:

Mrs. Patricia Bernardin, teacher aide at West Elementary, 20.5 hours a week. Mrs. Bernardin attended Northeastern University and took an early childhood program for teacher aides. She has been a volunteer in pre-kindergarten programs at Shawsheen and Doherty schools, was a volunteer in the West School Media Center, and a Girl Scout leader.

Mrs. Darlene Flint, teacher aide in Section B, West Elementary, 24 hours a week. Mrs. Flint attended Brown's Business School in St. Louis, Mo., has been a volunteer aide at West and a secretary for Shell Oil Co.

Mrs. Elaine Jasmin, teacher aide at South School Media Center, 10 hours a week. A graduate of Notre Dame High School in Bridgeport, Conn., Mrs. Jasmin has been a volunteer library aide at South, and previously was a secretary for an insurance company in Connecticut.

Dennis Ryan, teacher aide in an East Jr. High special needs class, 35 hours a week. Ryan, who holds a B.A. degree from Boston State College, is working toward his master's degree at Boston State. He was a special needs aide in Brighton last year, and was also recreation leader at Camp Joy in Boston this year.

Mrs. Maryann Scott, special needs teacher aide at West Elementary, 35 hours a week. Mrs. Scott holds a B.A. degree from Radcliffe College, and working toward a master's degree at Wheelock. She previously taught grade four and kindergarten in Boston raises, after expressing his concern that the committee was being asked to approve a total of $5185 in raises when they had received no evaluative material.

Salaries

"What it comes down to," he said, "is that there's no evaluative mechanism for appointments. Renewals and merit raises are not going to be automatic in the future. We need some written information and goals for those individuals. What did they accomplish toward their goals? What did their supervisors think?"

Committeeman William Lane countered that the committee had received the requests two weeks ago, and that it was incumbent upon them to have made their feelings known then.

"How is the superintendent going to do an evaluation on himself?" he asked, and added that the committee had hired Dr. Westcott as an associate superintendent, who in some cases reports directly to the school committee, placing a responsibility for his evaluation on the committee as well.

Seifert said that evaluations of Weil, Arcidy and Hannaford were on file, but that no one had asked to see them.

To support his own case, Seifert reported how he had carried out certain school committee goals in the past year.

The committee, he said, over-negotiated on teacher salaries for $100,000, and he went back into the organization and recouped the difference. The committee wanted reorganization, he said, and he reorganized for a $50,000 savings.

The system received an increase of $200,000 in state aid, he said, because of the extra work of school personnel. The Doherty - Shawsheen renovation projects, a "significant aspect" of committee goals, he said, had been handled extremely well by the organization.

All told, he said, he had achieved a savings of nearly half a million dollars.

Admitting that "we have probably been remiss" and that it is "probably time to evaluate Dr. Seifert," Griggs said the motion to table the raises was in order.

He added that he wasn't aware the school committee had over-negotiated for last year. "I was aware that the fact-finder over-recommended," he said.

Business Manager Weil then added that he thought the school committee was playing "very shabbily" with the lives of some people who were not represented by unions, and "who were doing nothing but working very, very hard and waiting inordinately long to receive less than the cost of living increase."

He said the committee had been aware since last June of the people who had been reappointed to those positions, and that their evaluations had been available since then.

"It is most out of line to suggest in October to table something that should have been done last June," he said.

"We're not playing games," Griggs said, "we're taking evaluation seriously, and he called Weil's comments "dead wrong, inflammatory and ill-advised."

The motion to table passed 3 to 1, with Lane the dissenting. Olesen reported that the custodians had agreed last month on contract changes, but they have not yet been put in writing. He said their pay from outside agencies who use schools on off-hours would be increased from $4 to $5 per hour, with a minimum of $12, instead of the previous $10.

He said they would also receive a hike of $14.96 per week, retroactive to September 1, for a cost to the town of $28,500. The requirement that senior personnel perform weekend checks on the schools would be eliminated, with the cost of hiring an additional person for that job, adding about $5858. The whole package, Olesen said, would cost about $36,350 more than last year.

Liquor Truck Overturns

One person was injured in a truck-car crash which resulted in some spilled scotch on South Main street about 9:45 Wednesday morning.

Beverly Smith, 92 Woburn St., Andover, operator of one of the cars involved in the crash, was taken to the Lawrence General Hospital for treatment of arm injuries.

Nancy Eaton, 80 Argilla Road, Andover, operator of another car involved was not hospitalized.

Operator of the truck was Jack Peuleo, 2 Webster Road, Boston, operating the vehicle filled with liquor from the Whitehall Co., a Boston liquor distributor, also did not require hospital treatment.

According to Andover police, Peuleo was operating north on South Main street, where he swerved to avoid making contact with a vehicle at Chapel avenue.

The truck overturned, with the top coming off and the cases of liquor spilling over the roadway.

Patrolman Fred Sunderland is in charge of the investigation.

Andover police reported that surprisingly enough not too much liquor was spilled in the accident, but there was still a significant reminder of the contents of the truck in the vicinity of the Phillips Academy grounds.

Andover police surrounded the truck and remained on duty there until the truck was towed from the scene to prevent any thefts.

The two cars were also towed from the scene.

Garden Plot Deadline On Friday

This is the final week for residents to sign up for the Community Gardens project at Deer Jump Reservation.

Those interested in having their plots plowed for the spring, must contact Carol DeLeire, 18 Carisbrooke St., Andover, by Friday.

The project was a successful one this past season as many took advantage of the offer of Conservation Commission and Andover Village Improvement Society land to produce fresh local grown crops, take a swipe at inflation and have fun all at the same time.

In November, Scouts from Troop 102 will get another chance to demonstrate their camping skills and do a good turn when they go to Harold Parker to assist and teach these skills to the Cub Scouts from Pack 102.

On Parent's Night, Oct. 21, at Bancroft School, awards earned at Camp Onway this summer will be presented. There is a total of 461 awards to be presented, quite an achievement for a newly organized troop. The Parents' Night program is to start at 6:45.

The Fifth District Congress Race Heats Up

The race for the Fifth Congressional District heated up this past week as the election date nears and Republican Congressman Paul W. Cronin and Democrat challenger Paul Tsongas of Lowell continue their campaign.

Some polls published over the weekend indicate that the incumbent Cronin of Andover, seeking re-election to a second term and Tsongas are on an even keel at this point.

The two candidates appeared in a televised debate on Boston's Channel 5 Sunday night, with the area economy a prime topic and credibility of campaign oratory also subject to discussion.

Cronin has been conducting his campaign mostly on weekends, due to Congress still being in session.

Last Friday Tsongas, at a press conference in Lowell, challenged Cronin's claims concerning bringing industry to the area as well as the status of the area economy. The comments were part of an eight point economic program the candidate said he would implement if elected.

During the conference, Tsongas challenged Cronin's claim that he has brought $2 million into the area daily in government contracts since his election.

Tsongas also questioned Cronin's claim that he brought Hewlett-Packard to Andover, and some other industries to Lowell. The Democratic candidate supplied documents to support his claims.

Cronin in the television debate on Sunday referred to the Tsongas charges as distortions.

Cronin said that Mostek was still interested in locating in Lowell, in reference to one Tsongas charge. The congressman read a letter from Mostek officials to that effect and noted that the current status of the economy was effecting the date of the move.

Tsongas Program

Also in the televised debate Sunday, Cronin answered Tsongas' questioning of the $2 million a day by stating that his challenger had distorted figures. Tsongas had claimed that the area was receiving up to $2 million during the period when the district was without a congressman after the appointment of Cong. F. Bradford Morse to the United Nations.

At the Friday press conference Tsongas issued an eight point program for the economy to include establishment of a job resources section in his congressional office, involve as many people as possible in economic development, create an economic development task force, broaden the district economic base, fully utilize department of labor funds provided to the division of employment security for job placement functions.

Also, establish a youth employment office, provide comprehensive services for prospective industries and create a climate for economic development.

Cronin Endorsed

From his Washington office Congressman Cronin announced during the past week endorsements of his candidacy for re-election by several organizations.

Listed among them were the Massachusetts Building and Construction Trades Council, the National Education Association Political Action Committee and the Railway Labor Executives Association.

Brook St. Facility Being Used

The Brook St. facility of the Andover-North Andover YMCA is being used for a number of programs during the transition period as the new YMCA building at 165 Haverhill St. starts its service to the two towns. The North Andover facility at 33 Johnson St. is similarly being used, with a somewhat reduced schedule.

Ten gym classes for St. Augustine's School pupils are being conducted for boys and girls in grades 4-8, for the seventh straight year, under the leadership of YMCA Physical Directors Walter J. Kimball, Sr. and Janet R. Mead. A program for Raytheon employees is being developed, including classes in slimnastics - recreation and in women's volleyball. Departmental groups of Raytheon employees are also being served on a reservation basis for various activities including basketball, volleyball, etc.

Six different guitar instruction classes are presently meeting under instructor Roland Moore of the Moore Studios and several bowling classes for boys and girls in grades 1-4 are using the YMCA alleys.

While the building is listed as "for sale" it will be programmed through this program year and the YMCA plans to initiate additional programs as the year progresses. Other suggested uses

In other campaign action from the Capitol, Cronin announced he will apply next year's House Campaign Spending limitations to his current campaign for re-election.

The congressman also said he would introduce legislation amending President Ford's request for a 5 percent surcharge on income tax for families earning more than $15,000. Cronin said he would introduce legislation to provide for a graduated surtax rate in lieu of the flat 5 percent rate.

will be considered and the facilities may be rented by responsible groups. Interested parties may contact Executive Director Richard P. Cate at the new building, 685-3541.

Benefit Rate Increased

The maximum weekly benefit rate for unemployment insurance will be increased from $90 to $95 for new claims effective on or after Sunday, October 6, 1974, according to John D. Crosier, Director of the Division of Employment Security.

This increase is the result of the first of the automatic annual adjustments in the maximum weekly benefit rate required by amendments to the Employment Security Law enacted last year by the General Court.

Under the revised Massachusetts Employment Security Law, the maximum benefit rate will continue to be computed at one-half the average weekly wages he earned during his base period up to the new maximum. In addition to the weekly benefit, heads of households will continue to receive an allowance of $6 for each dependent child under eighteen up to a maximum of 50 percent of the weekly benefit rate.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the
TOWNSMAN:

Where have all the voters gone? At the town meeting held on Monday, October 7th, only 386 voters turned out, or less than 3%, to vote on an article that could have had a favorable impact on the tax rate of the town.

Article 12 requested the rezoning of land on South Main Street for the addition of 294 units of rental housing. The Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen unanimously recommended DISAPPROVAL. The Planning Board objected because of three major factors outlined below.

1. The present water supply will not provide adequate fire protection; even the expansion of an 8" water main presently contemplated would not meet fire flow requirements unless a loop to South Main Street is provided. There is no easement shown in the present plans for such a loop.

The developer's attorney stated that one of the abutters was willing to negotiate with the developer to provide such an easement, and a loop would be provided with South Main Street.

2. Approval of the sewerage disposal system by the State Board of Health should be assured before such a final step as rezoning has taken place. This approval has not been obtained.

The developer's attorney stated that it is now the policy of the State Board of Health not to test land UNTIL A ZONE CHANGE HAS TAKEN PLACE. The reasoning behind this is that too much money has been spent testing land so that developers could sell at higher prices, telling buyers that the land has been tested for sewerage. After obtaining approval by the State, many developers never completed their plans.

3. A development of this magnitude could have a significant and large impact for Town services and facilities.

The present development of 220 apartments is self-maintained; the owner provides his own snow removal, upkeep of streets, trash and garbage removal and street lighting. There has been an average of one (1) call per year for fire engines, this due to smoke and grease fires in kitchen stoves. Police calls are minimal. Eleven children attend school from the present complex. The taxes paid by the Colonial Drive Realty Trust to the town in 1974 were $106,000.00. At an average rate of $1,000.00 to educate a child, that left a net gain to the town of $95,000.00. This does not include the auto excise taxes paid by the tenants. It was projected that the new project could bring an additional $175,000.00 into the town coffers. Based on the present complex, there would be an additional 15 children going to school at a cost of $15,000.00, netting the town approximately $160,000.00 PER YEAR, plus additional auto excise taxes. This could mean as much as a 60¢ REDUCTION in the tax rate.

An engineer was present from Dana Perkins to answer any questions the voters might have had with regard to sewerage problems. NO questions were asked of him. As a matter of fact, the only question asked was how many acres would the owner donate to the town if the rezoning was passed. When it was pointed out that 6.7 acres would be donated, the questioner went on to say that this would be to the advantage of the developer as it would take $25,000.00 off the tax rolls of Andover. The acreage in question, approximately 33.7 acres, is currently carried on the tax rolls of Andover at $7,600.00, and the 1974 tax bill on this acreage was $402.00. This is a far cry from $175,000.00.

The Planning Board recommended it remain zoned for single family residences. At a rate of 2½ children per family, this could mean an additional 80 children in the school systems. It would also mean that the Town would have to service the streets and pay for trash removal. This could result in a net loss to the town of as much as $25,000.00 per year.

In view of the facts that were brought out, I was stunned that after only 20 minutes of a presentation by the developer's attorney and a statement by the Planning Board, that the voters unanimously rejected the proposed article. It took almost an hour of discussion for the voters to reject paying $15,000.00 to the MBTA for train service on the premise that not enough Andoverites availed themselves of the service and it did not warrant a 6¢ INCREASE on the tax rate. It seems to me that a potential yearly income to the Town of $175,000.00 could have rated as much time and discussion! It's a shame that the voters of the Town decided that such an important and possibly beneficial article should be decided upon by less than 1% of the Town voters.

Mrs. Jean Levey
40 Colonial Drive
Andover, Mass.

To the Editor of the
TOWNSMAN:

I am greatly disturbed at the variable standards established by the moderator and lack of fiscal responsibility of our town elected officials.

Mr. Dalton, the presiding moderator, limited time for discussion on the very important Article 8 MBTA giveaway for reasons that are particularly suspicious to me.

Andover does not need the MBTA with all its political ties.

The few people that travel to and from Boston have alternate transportation. Mr. Haartz and Mr. Trombly made this only too clear at the meeting.

The Article 8 originally requesting $31,200 (later reduced to $15,000) is a continuation of our town leaders eagerness to support this nation's most highly paid transit workers for a meager return of two train trips a day.

This appropriation began at a meager annual fee not too many years ago and is growing uncontrollably each year.

Mr. Dalton limited discussion on this article. He would not allow opposing speakers to repeat points previously made by others for reinforcement of their argument. Thereby crippling all opposition.

But, when debate began on Article 9 (concerned with a $2250 appropriation for the elderly) Mr. Dalton let speakers with prepared speeches drone on and on. I take it that Mr. Dalton wanted this article passed, hence a new set of rules was once again imposed on the audience.

Although I am for care of our older citizens I am not for the 'double standards Mr. Dalton establishes to speed things up.'

A second observation concerning Article 8 was that the MBTA was represented On Stage. Since when does our Selectman, Finance Committee and Town Manager allow this power group prime audience exposure and then to top it off indicate almost unanimous approval of this article?

I am mighty suspicious.

These elected officials are not showing concern for the taxpayers by giving away town funds in the guise of aiding the few railroad passengers that embark from Andover.

Sanctioning this system with its' ridiculous per passenger costs is totally irresponsible.

The Ballardvale Browns, paced by a rock-solid defense that has yet to surrender a point and a crafty quarterback named Marty Solomon, took a giant step towards the 1974 Andover Junior Football League championship with a 13-0 whitewash of the Shawsheen Patriots last Sunday at the East Junior High gridiron.

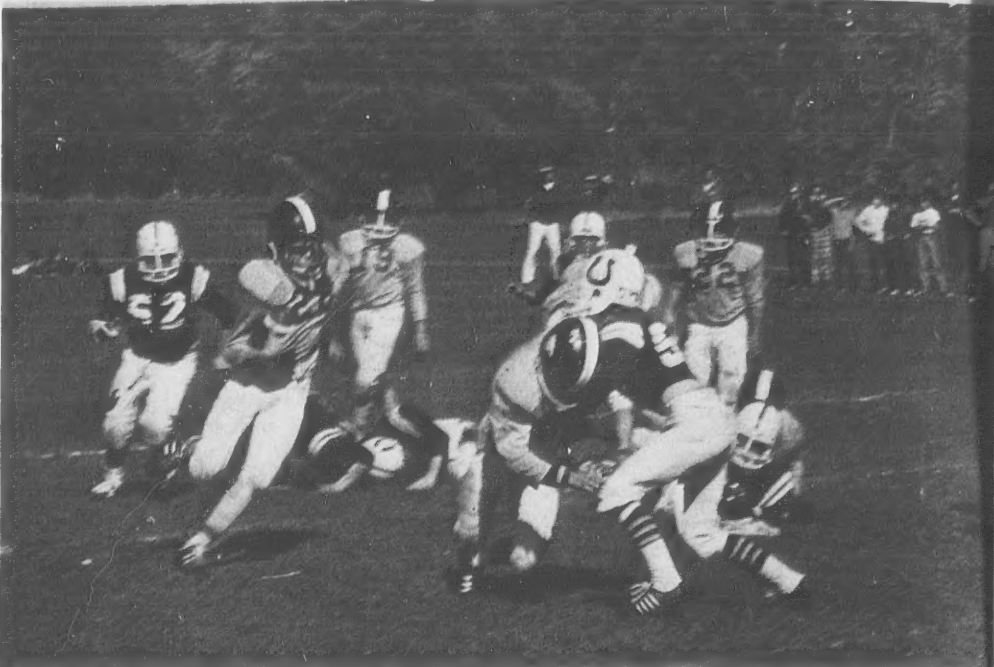

The two previously-undefeated teams had entered in a first-place tie with identical 2-0-0 records, but now the Browns own a one game lead with just two weeks left to go.

The other four teams continued to display unusual balance, as the Indian Ridge Vikings and West Andover Giants battled to a 6-6 deadlock, while the Central Colts and Bancroft Dolphins also fought to a 6-6 standoff.

The Browns collected all the points they would need in the second quarter, when Solomon and Pete Iannazzi combined talents on the age-old Statue of Liberty play.

Iannazzi took the ball from Solomon, swept around the left side, and raced 40 yards down the sideline to paydirt.

Mike Sherman, another of the Browns' 11-year-old running backs, barged over for the conversion and a 7-0 halftime edge.

Solomon, the top scorer in the AJFL with 24 points, added the insurance score late in the fourth period by racing 15 yards on a bootleg play.

This time Sherman's PAT rush was halted, keeping the score at 13-0 and giving the consistent Browns two TDs in each game thus far.

Larry Larrabee also ran well from his halfback slot for the Ballardvale crew.

Coach Bill Walsh's Patriots, perennial title contenders, were led defensively by linebacker Ken Levanti and B-team middle guard Mike Dufresne.

B-team fullback Dave Robinson was the offensive sparkplug.

Vikes 6, Giants 6

The Vikings, whose specialty had been coming from behind in previous games, jumped ahead 6-0 in the first quarter.

A 25-yard pass play from quarterback Steve Doherty to Kevin Callahan did the scoring damage.

The Doherty-to-Callahan pass combination was clicking all afternoon and accounted for plenty of yardage, but one time it failed was on the conversion attempt when the well-thrown pass was just off Callahan's fingertips.

Coach Mike Snoonian's Giants pulled into a 6-6 tie in the third period. B-team back Jeff Sarkisian, notching his second TD in two weeks, exploded off right tackle and sped 80 yards to tie it.

Rich Spinale's run for the all-important conversion was stopped.

The Vikings received some fine offensive work from running back Mike DeSalvo, while on defense the stalwarts were tackles Bob Dufault and Ira Gould.

The Giants' attack was spearheaded by running backs Mike Curley and Bruce Turgess. Safety Craig Mifflin and tackle Steve Luby keyed the defensive effort of the West Andover gang.

Colts 6, Dolphins 6

The Colts, in moving to their second straight 6-6 deadlock, were first on the board when Dave Sawyer scrambled 30 yards off tackle in the opening quarter.

Sawyer's attempted conversion, loss to Jerry Doyle fell in, complete.

The Dolphins, who hadn't scored for some time prior to this contest, pulled even on Ken Hyslip's six-yard burst up the middle.

John Merola's PAT aerial to Whit MacDonald missed connections, keeping it 6-6 at halftime.

The two rivals then locked horns in a scoreless second half, although the fourth period was chock full of scoring threats by both teams.

The game ended with the Colts knocking on the door again, but each time one of the clubs marched inside the opponent's 10-yard line a fumble, interception or suddenly-punchless offense ended the drive.

Colts' Co-Capt. Dave Milne did some of the fanciest running of the season, gaining about 80 yards rushing on a series of excellent carries.

Eric Darby, a tackle who was switched to fullback for a number of plays, also ran well for Coach Matt Hall's Colts. On defense, tackle Mike Yuska and linebacker Dave Pettoruto played well for the mid-town boys.

The Dolphins offense was bolstered by the efforts of John Sideri, and on defense Dave Cullinan was a terror at linebacker and Wayne Merola starred at tackle.

Schedule

The league enters its homestretch this Sunday with another tripleheader at the East Junior High.

The 12 noon opener matches the Dolphins and Patriots. The Browns and Vikings clash at 1:15 p.m., while the Giants and Colts meet in the 2:30 o'clock nightcap.

The objectives of the club are to maintain the organizational framework necessary to promote recreational and competitive skiing in the popular Alpine, Nordic and "free-style" branches; to provide the opportunity and guidance for the very youngest skiers to learn to compete and advance in classification in their chosen events; to provide the sociability necessary to maintain enthusiasm among the members for the club's activities; to promote sportsmanship and physical conditioning for the dedicated competitors; and to assist members in maintaining a complete technical understanding of their sport in the interests of safety and enjoyment.

Andover Ski Club will operate as a "100 per cent" club. All members will be required to join Eastern Ski Association through the club's treasurer and secretarial offices. There are three categories of membership: Family, Individual Voting and Junior Non-Voting. ESA membership through the Club offers benefits to members of reduced rates on ESA annual dues, discounts of 100 per cent for club members at participating lodges and ski areas in New England and receipt of "Skier," the official newspaper of ESA. Werner Program which has grown steadily in Andover since 1966. This program is open to children of all abilities through age 13 (prior to Jan. 1975).

"Snow plow" skiers may compete successfully and are encouraged to "come out" since there are no team "cuts" and all skiers race all races in the regular season. Season activities planned for this year include dry land practice starting Oct. 20, 10 a.m. to noon at West Jr. High, meetings before races, equipment demonstrations, weekly practice, a race schedule of four dual meets, a semi-final race, Eastern Massachusetts championships and Northeast Regional Championships at Pat's Peak in March with skiers from Eastern Mass., New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Vermont competing. Future new activities of the Club will be determined by the member's enthusiasm. "Cross country" is a rapidly growing "specialty" that needs support. Skiers are invited to join the Andover Ski Club and participate in the work and the rewards of skiing.

Paddle Tennis Offered

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will conduct Paddle Tennis classes for women at the Phillips Academy (Abbot) courts this fall. Registrations are being accepted at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. Residents of Andover and North Andover are eligible to fill the few existing vacancies on a first come basis. Full Privilege YMCA members may register without additional fee while a course fee is required for Basic and Affiliate members of the YMCA.

Instruction classes are offered under Gina Riddiford. A five week course of lessons with sessions on Tuesday, 9:30-10:30 a.m. will be offered beginning Oct. 15. Another instruction course under instructor Lenore Macartney will be offered beginning Nov. 18, with five weeks of instruction on Mondays 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Jan Sagaser will supervise informal Paddle Tennis play classes. Interested women may select from two offerings. One five week set of classes begins Oct. 16, with sessions on successive Wednesdays 9:30-10:30 a.m. On Nov. 12 another set of classes will begin on Tuesdays noon to 1 p.m. Additional time slots are available in either informal or instruction if interest warrants.

Knights Have Always-Tough Newburyport Next

By Bill Lafond

On Saturday, the Clippers of Newburyport come to Alvah Hayes Field as the Knights will be trying to end their three game losing streak after an opening game victory over arch-rival non-league Methuen.

The Knights had a tough time at Amesbury last weekend as the Indians, favored to be a dark horse contender for the Cape Ann grid title, worked devastating ball-control and hard-fought defense in savoring a 25-6 victory. "They just had great execution of ball-control in eating up the clock, and that Quarterback Boody (Tom) and Safety Soucy (Mike) were just excellent," quoted Coach Rorke.

The undefeated (4-0) Indians jumped off quickly to a 13-0 first quarter bulge. The Knights received and couldn't move as they had to punt and it was a bad snap from center as John McManus jumped on it at the N.A. 14. The Knights held on a fourth down at the five, but a short 29 yard punt against the wind put Amesbury at the Knights 37. Senior wingback Jack Morrill did most of the carrying on to the 14 and then Morrill, with a beautiful hand off from Boody went up the middle for the score, but the Knights line held him on the rush for the extras.

With the offense not moving at all against Amesbury's forward wall and still placed against the wind they were forced to punt again and this one sailed just 19 yards. The Indians offense just capitalized on this great field position as Boody on a third down play found a hole up the middle for 18 yards and then Sophomore back Keith Harris found room as he started around end for 12 yards and the touchdown. Mark Daneau made a fine kick through the goalpost for the extra point and it seemed a commanding 13-0 quarter score.

The red and black then began to move after the kickoff as quarterback Wayne Alexander started to hit consistently. At the Knight 24 Alexander hit Marty Driscoll for 12 yards and a first down, and then on the next play threw to Mike Rullo for 23 yards. The Knights were now at the Amesbury 41. Scott Boeglin then took a reverse around end for a first down. Alexander threw perfectly to Driscoll again down to the 14 yard line. Jeff Clough ran 9 yards to the five and then on just two running plays Edwards dove for the touchdown. Alexander rifled the pass attempt on the conversion out of the end zone and it was 13-6 Amesbury as that drive covered 76 yards for the touchdown.

The Indians offense clicked again as it drove 60 yards to the Knight five where the ball was fumbled and recovered by Mike Chory. The Knights couldn't move again and were forced to punt when on a reverse play Mike Soucy ran behind a wall of blockers up to the Knight's three with 15 seconds on the clock in the half. Amesbury got three plays in as Boody drove over from the one and at halftime it was 19-6.

This was probably the turning point as the Knights figured with 15 seconds on the clock they would be going into the locker room trailing by one touchdown when they entered intermission behind by two.

Midway in the third frame the Knights started to strike again as Edwards, their leading gainer, broke loose for 37 yards and the Knights were moving well at the Indian 31. A 15-yard penalty pushed the ball back 15 yards and that was the last threat by the Scarlet Knights.

In the final quarter, Amesbury struck once more as Soucy intercepted and was brought down from behind at the 14, but with just a little over a minute left they got the score when quarterback Boody plunged from the two.

Amesbury rushed on 58 plays and rolled up 262 yards as Jack Morrill was the leading runner with 86 yards on 16 carries. Quarterback Tom Boody had 73 yards on 18 plays while Sophomore Harris ran for 57 and Mark David for 48 yards. The Knights ran for a total of 84 yards on 26 rushes as Edwards was once again the big gun with 64 on 14 carries.

Offensive Standout

Danny Brucato has been providing some top performances with the Scarlet Knights jayvee teams and has seen some action with the varsity this season. His outstanding running bodes well for the future of the North Andover Gridmen.

Knights

The fighting Indians just passed four times and completed one for 12 yards while the red and black behind Alexander threw a total 11 times, completed four for 62 yards and had the one interception that set up their final touchdown. Amesbury also had 19 first downs to just 7 for the Knights. "They just cashed in on a couple of breaks and that is a sign of a good team," Coach Rorke stated.

Here Come the Clippers: "They are very explosive offensively led by a fantastic quarterback, Sullivan (Kevin) and he's only a junior. He does everything, great passer, very fast, and changes a game so quickly," said the Knight Mentor looking to this week's game with Newburyport.

Newburyport comes to North Andover with an overall 2-2 record, defeating Masconomet 28-0 and North Reading 27-18 before starting the season with two quick losses, one to state power Gloucester who was their non-league foe 47-22 and a tough loss to Pentucket 21-16.

The Clippers were one of the Tri-Champions a year ago in the Cape Ann along with Pentucket and Lynnfield, but have lost their entire offensive unit and most of the defense to graduation. Along with Sullivan, who came up from Newburyport's undefeated J.V. club of a year ago, they have two veteran backs, Paul Caron and Gary Twonbly along with a good split end in their Captain Kevin Barlow. Newburyport has good size as well as some fine talent to go with that size which make up a fine unit.

The Knights will be at full strength entering the game on Saturday and have no change of plans. "We have to stop that Sullivan as he is probably the best quarterback in the league. He likes to throw the screen to his halfbacks but he can run the ball also and has vast speed. They are probably also the best offensive team we have played so far and are a league power along with Pentucket and Amesbury," explained Coach Rorke.

Coach Rorke feels that his team has improved very much since the Methuen game and is very confident going into Newburyport. It is a 1:30 p.m. kickoff at Alvah Hayes Field.

Freshmen shut out Amesbury 20-0: The Knight Frosh stayed in the unbeaten ranks last Friday as they won their fourth straight, defeating a sound Amesbury club 10-0. The two teams exchanged the pigskin to a stand-off 0-0 1st quarter, but the Knights struck blood quickly in the 2nd frame for a 6-0 lead when Kevin Callagy, a fine quarterback hit Jim Addonigio for a 7 yard touchdown strike. Callagy tried passing for the two but was stopped on the bid.

Pete Reilly Toes Andover Win

Pete Reilly has booted a lot of points after during his high school grid career at Andover High, but none as important as last Saturday.

His surefooted boot splitting the uprights was the margin which kept the Golden Warrior win streak alive at 21 regular season games and the '74 record at 4-0 with a 7-6 win over Austin Prep at Reading.

In the end, it was a poised group of Warriors who were able to turn things around toward the end of the contest. A Jeff Winters to Glenn Verrette pass near the end of the fourth period was good for the tie, with Reilly providing the point after clincher.

"It was a real squeaker and I guess we're bound to have our share," said Warrior Head Coach Dick Collins this week as he prepped his charges for a traditional rival type clash with Methuen this Saturday.

Examining the game films Monday, Collins was a little more pleased with the performance of his club.

"At first, I thought maybe we weren't playing too well, but looking at the films, I find we played a decent ball game and the defense played very well. We did very well in certain aspects of the game.

"Basically what hurt us were the five turnovers," Collins said.

Andover fumbled four times and had a pass interception which led to a 6-0 lead by the Austin Cougars in the third period.

Andover's coach was quick to praise the Austin club, noting the Cougars had just come off two victories, winning by big scores and were in top shape for the Warriors contest last Saturday.

Austin's Chuck Gaudet intercepted a Jeff Winters pass at the Cougars 29 and returned it to the Andover ten where John McDonald made the tackle.

Four plays later Dave Bruno broke over from the one yard line after consecutive attempts.

Toeing His Club To A Win

Austin attempted to pass for the two point conversion and failed.

It was the Warrior poise that paid off in the final period, when with about four minutes left, Winters was able to engineer a scoring drive following a punt to the Andover 26. Winters hit Bill Alexander, T.J. Stamas and Steve Fabiani on some good passing to bring the ball to the Austin 27. The classy quarterback then tossed a scoring strike down the middle to Glenn Verrette, the payoff combination.

Collins was high in praise of the whole Andover unit in Andover's win.

Of Reilly, who kicked the extra point, Collins noted the consistency with which Pete has been kicking. "He has developed that confidence that is so important," Collins said, and while giving due credit to the youngster, the head coach noted the teamwork with which the Warriors have been able to amass their winning record. "To make the kick, he had to have the blockers, a good center and a good man holding the ball," Collins noted.

Of the scoring drive, Collins commented on the efforts of Alexander and Fabiani and T.J. Stamas, "who made one of the key catches. And don't forget he left the field in an ambulance a week earlier with a shoulder dislocation," Collins said.

Austin was doubling up on Verrette quite a bit during the game making it difficult for

This positively improves soil conditions and helps in growing stronger and more healthful crops. This is the method used by professional gardeners the world over; good compost means a good garden. The finer your materials are ground up, the more quickly they decompose in compost, and the neater they look as top mulch. Winters to hit his prime target. But in the end Glenn was able to free himself for the TD.

Singling out members of the defense, Collins pointed to the work of McDonald, Dave Tallini. Jerry Stabile, who made a key tackle when Austin was mounting another drive late in the fourth period preventing a first down, Craig Eosefow and Brian Flannery.

Of this week's upcoming clash with Methuen, Collins offered that "while it sounds corny, I know, you have to throw away the record book on this one."

Methuen and Andover have been rivals for years and this traditional clash falls into the category followed by most rivalries of this sort, namely anything can happen.

"Methuen has been our toughest game year in and year out, and we're not taking them lightly, just because of their record," the Warrior coach states emphatically. Methuen is winless to date this season.

"Methuen is a much better team than their record shows. Their problem seems to be in depth," Collins said.

In the first two minutes of the third quarter Callagy ran this time around end for 10 yards, and the score, but missed on the conversion try as it was 12-0. A fine 43 yard pass to John Quintal by Callagy set up the third touchdown on the 8 yard line as Tom Erle went up the middle for the score. Callagy hit Addonigio for the two points for a final 20-0 score.

Kevin Callagy hit five of six passes for 116 yards while Tom Erle ran for 49 yards.

Chris Calzetta, Bill Sansoucie, and George Partridge were great on defense for the Frosh as they have scored 98 points to just 22 for their opponents in rolling up a 4-0 season. They travel to Newburyport Friday for a 3:15 p.m. game.

Knight Jayvees unscored on. The Junior Varsity put on another fine display of defense on Monday as they ran past Amesbury 22-0. They are unscored upon after four games and have put 108 points on the board. The big man on defense in this game was Bill McMahon along with some fine help from Dan Brucato and Dave Stone, but you can't just single out a few as the whole defensive alignment was fantastic, once again stopping a fine running Amesbury team.

On the first play from scrimmage in the game Norm Gallant ran through the hole up the middle for 43 yards to the 20 where Dan Brucato took it the rest of the way on the very next play for a 6-0 lead.

The next time the Knights had their hands on the ball Brucato again ran up the middle for 60 yards and the score, as Ed Chaput rushed the extras for a 14-0 lead with 3:40 still left in the opening quarter. There was no further scoring until there was less than three minutes in the half when Mike Chaput hit Ed Chaput for a 20 yard scoring pass over the middle and then Mike rushed the two. A great defensive display was put on in the second half as the Juniors also stayed undefeated. They go down to Newburyport for a Monday 3:15 kickoff.

ANDOVER YOUNGSTERS (l-r) Ted Kelley, Dick Kelley and Dave Nardone will be competing in the State Finals of the annual Ford Punt, Pass and Kick Championships this Saturday at Boston College's Alumni Stadium in Newton. All three boys earned the right to try for the State title by winning both District and Zone Championships in their respective age groups. The States will be followed by the New England at Foxboro, the Eastern Regionals at Washington, D.C. and the National Championships at the Super Bowl in January.

Ted, Dick Kelley, Nardone Advance In Title Quest

Andover boys Dave Nardone, Ted Kelley and Dick Kelley have advanced through two rounds of the annual Ford Punt, Pass and Kick Championships, and with each successive victory they get closer to the top prize - the National title.

Dave Nardone, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nardone, 89 Lowell St., started by winning his age group's District championship in the Lawrence competition sponsored by Nassar Ford.

Ted and Dick Kelley, the 10 and 9-year-old sons respectively of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelley, 158 Shawsheen Road, captured their District titles in competition at the Sacred Heart field sponsored by Shawsheen Motor Mart in Andover.

The three local boys then advanced to the Zone Championships, staged last Friday night at the Lowell Colts - Attleboro Kings Eastern Football League semi-pro game at Cawley Stadium in Lowell.

All three won again. Competitors are judged on how far they can punt, pass and kick a football, with accuracy in terms of a straight line also counting heavily. All measurements are in feet.

Nardone won in the 12-year-old group with a combined total of 266 feet for the three categories.

He punted the ball 77 feet (approximately 26 yards), passed it 98 feet (33 yards) and his kickoff sailed 91 feet (30 yards).

Ted Kelley's efforts covered 223 feet, including a 69-foot punt, an 87-foot pass and a 67-foot kickoff.

Dick Kelley, who last year went all the way to the State finals and finished as the Massachusetts 8-year-old runner-up, had a 161 foot performance.

Dick's punt traveled 61 feet, his pass 44½ feet and his kickoff covered 55½ feet.

The next stop on the climb up the ladder will be this Saturday at Boston College's Alumni Stadium for the State finals.

The New England Championships will be held at the halftime of a New England Patriots' game sometime next month.

The Eastern Regionals are set for Washington, D.C. during the halftime of a Washington Redskins' NFL game.

The National finals will be held at the Super Bowl in January.

Representative Town Meeting Discussed

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 17, 1974

Grown men weep and small children run for cover, Town Moderator William Dalton told the Andover League of Women Voters last week, when that group undertakes a new study.

Last Wednesday's fall luncheon at the Indian Ridge Country Club was something of a kick-off for the League's study on the representative versus the open town meeting, and Dalton spoke out in favor of maintaining the old form.

Also on the dais were William O'Hara, political science professor at Salem State College, who presented the historical background of town meeting, and Lincoln Cole, Jr., state representative from Lexington, and moderator of the representative town meeting there.

"You are fooling yourselves by accepting the mythical grandeurs of open town meeting," O'Hara said. "There's no sense in perpetuating it."

He said town meetings were held as early as 1628, and went along unchanged until the latter part of the 19th century, when some of the communities, especially along the coast, had difficulty for a meeting.

The General Court has since provided that towns with 6,000 members could change a representative town meeting, either by a special act, or by a charter change. The townspeople simply elect a certain number of representatives to vote for them - much as state legislators do.

Many towns are in the throes of such a charter change now, he said.

O'Hara cited a general "lack of interest in things political... especially in communities where there's a huge influx of people unacquainted with the town," as one reason for going to a representative form.

The competition inherent in an election for town meeting representatives, he said, might on the other hand arouse citizen interest.

He said that Town Meeting is also dominated by a large number of persons there for their own self interest, and that one way to get around this would be to get them to run for the representative seats.

"To change the charter," O'Hara said, "is a burdensome, charter change ratio, he said, the only alternative is to petition the General Court to become a city, though, he said, the very word 'city' to many connotes inequities and evil. He said some 'cities' such as Newburyport and Southampton, however, have maintained their small town nature.

While it is true that open town meeting is not representative, Dalton said when he took the microphone, "I wonder if representative town meeting is."

He also acknowledged the argument that the town is too

A REPRESENTATIVE GROUP. Representative town meeting was the subject for discussion at the League of Women Voters Fall luncheon last week. Panel participants were, from left, Andover Town moderator William Dalton, Lucky Lyons, chairman of the LWV study on representative versus open town meeting; Rep. Lincoln Cole, Jr., moderator of the Lexington Town meeting and Sue Tucker. Andover League president.

large but, he said, "we don't have a problem with too many people turning out for a meeting."

He said that his experience is that the larger the meeting, the more well-behaved the audience, and the more business that gets done.

And while we're in a society alienated, by Watergate and inflation, he said, at least the people can show up and vote.

While admitting some problems, he called open town meeting "the very primary source of government," that, in Andover, "is nowhere near unwieldy yet."

"We're starting to get into the realm of the professional politician," he went on, "who perhaps runs for reasons other than the universal good."

"I know who's going to run for the representative seats," he said. "A lot of them are people I've been trying to keep quiet at town meeting for two years."

There may be better forms, he said, such as dividing into town meetings by precinct, then sending precinct reps on to the town.

"But let's see how they're going to work out first."

"Representative town meeting isn't that much better, if indeed it is at all," he went on. "There seems to be an assumption that representative town meeting is inevitable. It's not."

He also quoted from a study made several years ago, that didn't find any reason to take away the privilege from those who are interested, just because the others who aren't don't show up."

Representative Cole, who is in his sixth term as a state representative, was a selectman for nine years and has been a town meeting member for 25 years. While he didn't come to suggest that Andover change over to a representative town meeting, he said, it had worked in Lexington which is much the same in character as Andover.

He said he suspected that Lexington changed over to the representative form in 1929 because they had trouble getting quorums, except for meetings on the budget or major issues.

When the particular issue someone came about was out of the way, he said, they went home.

Cole said that in Lexington, every citizen is still allowed to speak at town meeting, including youths, if the matter relates to them.

Representatives, he said, have to stand on their record, because they have to stand for reelection. In Lexington the local paper also prints the names of representatives who were absent from a meeting.

Cole suggested that if Andover did go to a representative form, the members organize to meet separately, form study committees and have informational meetings before the scheduled town meeting.

He said the representative form was excellent for larger towns if it had the proper representation from all the town. Lexington, he said, has 21 representatives from each of nine precincts - many of them women - and excellent attendance.

He said that there are two ways to go if the town decides to change: by a charter change, or by a legislative act, and that "charter change is not necessarily the best way to go."

A representative town meeting won't solve all problems, Cole concluded, but in Lexington, he said, it has worked "very very well."

Demonstrations will be held and other club members will be available to teach beginners the rules of the game, or just to discuss the game of chess.

The activities will climax Friday when chess luminary, raconteur and author, Harry Lyman, will engage 15 foes simultaneously across the chess boards. A small donation ($1.00) will be requested from each of Harry's foes. The proceeds and Mr. Lyman's fee will wend their way to the Boylston St. Chess Club Fund for promising young chess players.

Children's Room News from Jan Johnson

Hey there, it's almost Halloween but we don't really look it. Please help us out. Enter our Trim-A-Lantern contest. All you have to do is decorate a small pumpkin (about 20" around) and bring it to the Children's Room before Oct. 20. Better hurry though, you're running out of time. Prizes will be awarded to the funniest, the fanciest and the spookiest pumpkins. Judging will be Tues. Oct. 29 at 4 p.m. All kids in grades k-6 may enter. Oh, one more thing, cut pumpkins don't last very long in a warm place like the library so please glue the decorations on your pumpkin instead of cutting it. Thanks.

We're having another Sing-Along for a fall afternoon. Bring your friends and join us on Sat. Oct. 26 at 3 p.m. for a fun-filled hour of favorite songs. Children of all grades, k-6 are welcome. See you there.

Salt Marsh Walk

A guided family walk through a salt marsh is being planned for Sunday, Oct. 27 at 2 p.m. by Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary. Anyone who is interested is invited to come enjoy the beautiful colors of autumn and look for the special plants and creatures that live in this unique environment, half land, half sea.

The walk is limited to 40 people and prior registration is necessary. A small fee will be charged for each family group. For further information, please call the Sanctuary office, 887-22441.

Testing

We'll tread softly into the subject of achievement testing in the Andover public schools and recent results reported to the school committee.

Indications were that the battery of tests administered last spring showed Andover pupils showing improvement and that is good.

The school committee members took official cognizance of the test results and asked for further information regarding their evaluation.

Testing has been a sore point in school committee deliberations in recent years.

To our way of thinking this overall testing program carried out at various intervals, provides local school systems with some guidelines and that is about all.

We would suggest that a group of figures put up for comparison can well be used in any manner one might choose. They can work to boost a system, or tear it down, thus the only proper emphasis to be placed on such test results is to determine guidelines.

Let us suppose, as some might suggest, that results be applied to teacher evaluation. In such circumstances can the educator who is working with a "low" class, one with lesser capabilities in math comprehension, be compared with one dealing solely with average or above average learners?

Or should an affluent community produce better test results than one lower on the economic scale? Does a youngster whose parents are well-off financially have more brains than the child of parents of lesser economic status?

These are just a couple of questions of test scores.

Admittedly there were some apparent problems in the math program in Andover schools. There is some evidence that this has been turned around, whether it has been through the so-called back to basics movement, or whatever.

For this, the test results seem to have some value.

But, if they are to be utilized for a witch hunt, then they are absolutely worthless, in our opinion.

Documents

We have suspicions about political activity of some local appointed officials, following release this past week by a candidate seeking federal office.

Democrat Paul Tsongas, in charging that Congressman Paul W. Cronin was not involved in bringing certain industries to the district, produced documents from Andover town officials.

In the package of documentation to support his claim, were two items of particular interest. A photocopy of the Andover industrial development commission's annual report and a photocopy of a communication from the town manager to the selectmen, finance committee and industrial development commission.

They were offered to support the Tsongas contention that Cronin had nothing to do with the bringing of the Hewlett-Packard plant to Andover.

We do not infer that Andover elected or appointed officials have no right to be involved in political campaigns. They are to be encouraged to actively participate in the political process of their community.

But in this particular instance, the handing of documents to a candidate which are informational in nature to responsible boards, in the case of the manager's letter, and to the town in the case of the annual report, seems like an affront to the local officials.

The information contained in the documents is not confidential.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reports that the information, or documents were not released from his office. Municipal managers characteristically remove themselves from political campaign involvement.

As for Cronin's alleged non-involvement in the Hewlett-Packard negotiations the documents prove nothing.

The manager's informational document deals with a meeting which he, some selectmen, FinCom and Industrial Commission members had with H-P officials in November, 1972.

That Cronin was not there at that particular time, or at subsequent meetings on the subject, does not eliminate him completely from involvement.

As for the industrial commission annual report, we would hardly expect that body to promote anything other than their own activity with regard to inducing new industries to the community.

We seem to recall, on one occasion during the past year when we asked for a vote of the industrial commission with regard to joining a Greater Lawrence Industrial group, being informed that the commission did not have to reveal the voting record and that it didn't matter anyway.

So much for documents and their sources.

Gentlemen and ladies, as the case may fit, pursue your political goals, but let's keep Andover's documents within Andover boards.

A Good Thought

This coming Saturday is being observed as Sweetest Day here in Andover, a promotion of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Now the initial reaction could well be that this is some sort of gimmick to help Chamber activities and members.

Think a moment and you well could come up with the conclusions which we are drawing - that such an occasion is long overdue and the Chamber is to be congratulated for their effort.

The general idea is to take a moment this weekend to remember someone - be kind to somebody.

In a country which consumes more tranquilizers than aspirins, maybe here is a solution to the whole problem - taking that extra moment from the busy world, fraught with problems, to be kind to someone.

A little bit of kindness can be most beneficial.

Congratulations to the Chamber for the idea - we hope it's catching.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Foliage viewers who stayed around the area this past week to take in the autumnal beauty suddenly found that the Merrimack River, despite its pollution, is a pretty nice looking stream.

We have often heard people comment on how pretty the river looks from the air. A casual drive along the river banks these days provides a most pleasant view.

Viewing the river from the Lawrence side, looking toward North Andover, where work on the sanitary treatment plant is progressing gives quite an impression also, with the stone work now being placed and the development of the treatment plant area contributing to improving the overall river appearance.

We have heard many a complimentary word these past few days about the fans following Austin Prep football.

Andover played the Reading team at the latter's home grounds last Saturday and the one grandstand available for fans could lead to some mixed feelings at times.

Not so, according to all reports. True sportsmen is the best description of the Austin Prep fans, who listened politely to the Warrior chants and shouted encouragement of their own to their Cougars who nearly pulled off quite an upset.

Peter McFarland, who is well known in these parts as a retired Hood milk man and later a wool salesman, was once a pretty good twirler in Greater Lawrence baseball circles.

Among his observations on current baseball doings is the inability of players to lay down a good bunt.

Pete, who struck out many from various mounds around New England, notes that in his day, the bunt was a valuable offensive weapon. We join him in the view that few professional ball players today can effectively lay down a good bunt which can provide some exciting results.

A flock of Canadian geese provided a majestic scene on Lake Cochichewick this week.

The birds, apparently resting on their migratory flight, were enjoying the placid waters of both the lake and nearby Stevens pond Tuesday noon.

John Peroni, Director of the Division of Continuing Education and Community Services, Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, has announced a substantial growth in continuing education enrollment at the college for the fall 1974 semester. 3,280 people registered for credit and non-credit courses this fall, a 44 per cent increase over spring 1974 enrollment. These people registered for a total of 4,534 course seatings.

Non-credit special interest course registration grew a significant 16 per cent. The largest area of growth, however, was in the credit course area where enrollment was up 64 per cent over last spring.

Peroni noticed several trends

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - October, 1899

A special meeting of South Church was held this week to accept the gift of $300 for a stained glass window to be installed where it is deemed best. The gift is from John Phelps Taylor in memory of his father, Rev. John L. Taylor, pastor from 1839 to 1852.

Several members of the academic community as well as friend of Professor George Harris, formerly of this place, were in attendance at the ceremonies which installed Professor Harris as president of Amherst college this past week.

William Odlin, who was defeated in his bid for Republican nomination to be representative by a North Andover man, has not as yet determined whether he will seek election as an independent.

Druggist Bliss had a beautiful night blooming cerise in his store window Tuesday night and it proved to be quite an attraction for visitors and regular customers.

Miss Margaret Newhall entertained the members of the senior class at Punchard and the teachers at her home in North Andover this week, as one of several such gatherings planned for the winter months.

50 Years Ago - October, 1924

Despite protests by the merchants, the selectmen have approved no parking on Park street in the vicinity of the fire station as a safety measure. The electric car stops are also to be changed in order not to impede the apparatus responding to an alarm.

At a joint meeting of the school committee and selectmen this week, Raymond S. Bartlett of Lowell street was elected to serve out the school board term of Frank G. Crawford who had resigned. Bartlett has previously served on the school committee in Winchester.

Phillips Academy made a good start on its new gridiron last Saturday defeating the Harvard freshmen, 13-0.

Selectman Charles Bowman, Sr., Charles Bowman and William Bowman, spent the weekend at The Weirs, in New Hampshire.

A Republican rally will be held in town hall Tuesday evening under the direction of Dr. Alfred E. Stearns. Gov. Channing Cox will be one of the speakers, along with Frank G. Allen, president of the senate and candidate for lieutenant governor.

25 Years Ago - October, 1949

Four new reserve patrolmen were appointed by the selectmen this week and were taken in order from a civil service list. The appointees are Edward A. Pettoruto, George A. Porter, James M. Gorrie and Frederick K. Welch.

Phillips Academy officials are in agreement with town officials on the improvement of safety conditions. The academy has given the town a plan designed in 1932 which would provide a turf plot in the center of the highway.

The selectmen this week received a communication from the Andover Housing Authority requesting permission to name the street at the new housing project Memorial Drive.

The Board of Public Works, at its meeting this week, was critical of the manner in which high school students are leaving the grounds and also of the recreation committee for the condition in which the Ballard-vale playground was left at the end of the season.

Let's Talk Real Estate

with

Selling your home on your own can leave you mortified. If you listen to all your friends, you will have all the facts you need - the wrong ones. Just because Bill's house sold for this much, and John's for that much, you thought you did well. But did you? You may never know. If you made a quick sale you may have given someone a bargain. Finding the right buyer, at the right time, and at the right price is working for the professional. He or she knows who is looking where and at what price. Do you?

Seek the assistance of a qualified representative from BOXTOP REALTY, Olde Andover Village, 93 Main St. Tel. 475-3984. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. by App't. We will assist you in obtaining and processing your mortgage. We also handle rentals.

HELPFUL HINT:

An appraiser can help you set a good price on your home, but your agent can help you find the right buyer.

Removing Prejudice To Be Topic

Prejudice of every kind can be removed through the power of divine Love, God.

This is a theme of a public lecture on Christian Science to be given Monday, Oct. 21st in Andover by Glen C. Livezey of Chicago.

"As we base our lives in God as absolute Love, we abandon the prejudices of materiality," Mr. Livezey will explain. "Instead, we find more joy, peace, gentleness in our lives."

Mr. Livezey will speak in the church edifice at 8 p.m. under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover.

Mrs. Germaine Kundrat is will introduce the lecturer. Duane Prugh is handling arrangements for the event.

The lecture, entitled "Let Your Basis Be Love," is open to the public without charge.

A former businessman, Mr. Livezey held executive positions in the advertising business for 15 years.

From 1964 to 1969 he was with The Christian Science Monitor's advertising department as manager of the Philadelphia and Midwestern advertising offices and National Advertising Manager.

In 1967 he entered the public practice of Christian Science. He is currently on extensive tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Record Earnings At Raytheon

Raytheon Company today announced record third-quarter earnings of $1.10 a share, compared with 82 cents a share a year ago.

Sales, earnings, and earnings per share for both the quarter and the nine months ended Sept. 29 were all the highest for any quarter or nine-month period to date.

In the third quarter, Raytheon had net income of $16,572,000, which was 35 per cent above the comparable 1973 net of $12,319,000. Sales of $491,438,000 were 28 percent above year-earlier sales of $384,090,000.

For the nine months, Raytheon earned $43,298,000 or $2.89 a share on sales of $1,396,856,000. For the same period in 1973, the company earned $35,220,000 or $2.30 a share on sales of $1,152,825,000.

Per-share earnings are based on average number of shares outstanding, which for the third quarter amounted to 15,011,922 in 1974 and 14,970,305 in 1973. Average number of shares outstanding for the nine months was 14,997,373 in 1974 and 15,303,170 in the prior year.

Total company backlog at the end of 1974's first nine months was $2.49 billion, up from $1.36 billion a year ago. The U. S. Government-funded portion of the backlog was $622 million compared with $593 million a year earlier.

President Thomas L. Phillips said, "The large increase in backlog is a result of orders for major electronic systems from foreign countries and significant bookings for engineering and construction of new plants in the energy field.

"These businesses are made up of a variety of contracts, some of which have payment schedules running ahead of current expenditures and creating a favorable cash flow," Mr. Phillips noted.

"We are temporarily investing the cash in short-term marketable securities yielding interest income. Such income accounted for about $1 million or 7 cents a share of this year's third-quarter earnings."

The Raytheon executive noted that the company's third-quarter gains in sales and earnings from operations also are largely attributable to major electronics systems and energy-related businesses.

In commenting on the company's major appliance business, Mr. Phillips said, "Amana and Caloric top-of-the-line products are selling well despite the downturn in the economy. The inflationary cost increases we have had to absorb have been largely offset by increases in volume.

"In other areas, Raytheon has taken appropriate steps to adjust to the economic downturn," Mr. Phillips continued. "Our overall business is strong, and we are headed for the best year of sales and earnings in our history."

Provision for federal and foreign income taxes was $13,537,000 in the third quarter and $36,362,000 in the first nine months. Tax provision in the comparable 1973 periods was $10,272,000 and $29,509,000.

Pomp's Pond is named for Pompey Lovejoy, a former servant of Capt. William Lovejoy, who built a cabin near the present entrance to Spring Grove Cemetery in 1751. He and his wife Rose served cake and rootbeer to voters on town meeting days.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Spicer

Spicer - Ellis

At home in Woburn, are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Alton Spicer, who were married September 22 at the First Congregational Church of Woburn.

The bride is the former Lynn Elizabeth Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Jean E. Maffei, 11 Nutmeg Lane, Andover, and Ralph F. Ellis, Jr., of Lynn. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Spicer of Woburn.

The Rev. Stuart C. Nutter performed the 3 o'clock service, at the altar, which was decorated with yellow, white, and mint green carnations. Mrs. Karen Crofts of Danvers, the bride's sister and matron of honor, played the guitar and sang two folk tunes, "Follow Me," by John Denver, and "Sunshine Wedding," which she wrote herself for the wedding. George Bozeman was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white, flocked voile print gown, with ruffled neckline, candlestick sleeves, ruffled flounce, and removable jacket. She also wore a garden picture hat of Venice lace, enhanced with white tulle, back bow and streamers. She carried a basket of white roses, daisy poms, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Crofts, the matron of honor, wore a matching gown of mint green. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Roxanne Moguaro and Cynthia Graustein of Woburn; Kathryn Maffei of York, Maine; and Karen Erickson of Lynn, wore matching gowns of soft coral and yellow pastel voile. They wore chiffon, picture hats in matching pastels and carried baskets of yellow and peach tea roses, daisy poms and baby's breath.

Eleanor June Spicer of Woburn was flower girl, wearing a white flocked print gown with mint green underlay and matching hat.

Gerald Wayne Spicer of Chula Vista, Calif., served his brother as best man, and ushers were Patrick Moguaro, Jr., and Rodney Hicks of Woburn, Dennis Galante of Waltham, and David Ellis of Andover.

Mrs. Maffei chose a billowy, shrimp-colored chiffon gown, featuring a Grecian neckline and back cape, for her daughter's wedding, and wore a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a turquoise knit gown featuring a floral, embroidered panel, with a corsage of yellow tea roses and daisies.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Sons of Italy Hall, Woburn, and the couple took a wedding trip to New Hampshire.

The new Mrs. Spicer was a graduate of Masconomet Regional High School and Salem State College, with a B. S. degree in elementary education. She was formerly a secretary for Baird-Atomic Inc., Bedford.

Her husband graduated from Woburn High School, and attended Berkeley College of Music. He is a member of two local bands, "Destinne" and "Sevenfold", and is also a salesman for Baker Shoes, Burlington Mall.

Shopper Hot Line Available

Print this number, large and red, near your telephone: 1-800-392-6026.

Before you go food shopping, call it from anywhere in Massachusetts, without charge.

It will give you all the latest inside information on the food-buying front, as gathered daily - long before most of us are awake - by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA).

The new toll-free number went into service earlier this week, when Lieut.-Gov. Donald Dwight made the first call to open the line.

A three-minute recorded message will contain the day's best buys at your local markets - spoken slowly enough for you to take notes for your shopping list - as well as the nutritional value of the items, and some ways to get the most value out of them. From time to time, recipes will be offered.

The service is the latest weapon employed by the state in the war against inflation. Since "knowledge is power," the MDA will dispense as much information as possible so that consumers can buy food more economically and use it more wisely.

MDA investigators cover the wholesale markets every morning before dawn, recording the incoming shipments of fresh food products, as well as the buying activity. This information, coupled with reports from across the Commonwealth on consumer demand and upcoming retail sales, gives the Division of Markets the ability to report up-to-the-minute food-buying information.

The hot-line reports will be in consumer language - not in the kind of wholesale "shorthand" often heard in radio market reports.

At this time, the hot line has fewer incoming lines than planned. But it operates 24 hours a day. It costs nothing to call. If you find it busy, keep trying. It should be worth your few minutes in market basket savings.

Look for these items on special sale this week, says the MDA:

carrots, celery, chicory, escarole, eggplant, mushrooms, peppers, Bartlett pears, squashes, grapefruit and McIntosh, Cortland and Red Delicious apples.

Richard D. Hegarty of Park-Hegarty Volkswagen Says: What we give you free, you can't get on most cars at any price.

Walk into just about any automobile showroom and start asking some questions. Like:

"Does the car come with electronic fuel injection?"

"No."

"What about just fuel injection? Forget about electronic."

"No."

"Can I get a timed preheater?"

"Sorry, but . . ."

"Four-wheel independent suspension?"

"Nope."

"Steel-belted radials?"

"Sure. But you've got to pay extra."

"How about the Owner's Security Blanket?"

"The what?"

"With Computer Analysis?"

"With what?"

Our point is simple:

When you buy a Volkswagen 412, you get everything you've just asked for. For nothing. That's right. You don't pay anything extra for the "extras."

And since our car is a luxurious Volkswagen, it also comes replete with plush seats, thick carpets, big windows, flo-thru ventilation, two trunks, and room, plenty of room. Also at no extra cost.

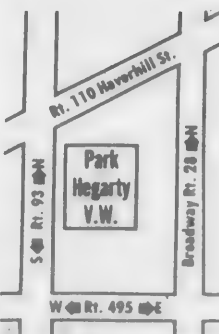

Getting anything for free these days is a luxury in itself.

SERIES

The smoothest riding pickup we've ever built

This is our new Model 100 series for moderate hauling. We could have aptly called it "easy rider," it's that smooth... that quiet. A totally new independent coil spring front suspension on the two-wheel drive model steps over bumps lightly. The front wheel track is wider by 4 inches to improve roll stability and handling. Rear leaf springs are underslung for a lower center of gravity. And the rear shocks are staggered to reduce "wheel hop," especially when you're driving with a light load. It all works together to produce what we think is one of the smoothest handling pickups on the road.

Davis Is Appointed Director

Harry Axelrod, Chairman of the board of directors of the Region IV Association for Human Development, Inc. announces the appointment of William E. Davis as the Association's Executive Director. Mr. Davis' appointment was effective September 10, 1974 and is made possible as a result of a Federal National Institute of Drug Abuse grant recently awarded to the Association.

The initial grant of $300,000 will allow the Association to provide funding to regional self-help groups and to employ some specialized staff to improve the services provided to the people of Region IV. The area served includes all of Essex County and Eastern Middlesex County municipalities of Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Melrose, Malden, Medford, and Everett. Mr. Axelrod emphasized that the purpose of the Association is to help people receive the services they need be it for drug abuse, alcoholism, mental illness, or other individual, marital or family problems. The Association would like to have citizens become more involved in the service programs.

According to Mr. Axelrod, the Association will assist existing self-help programs by providing funds, staff training, a temporary shelter, diagnostic and treatment services and other services that may be necessary to help people in need.

The Region IV Association is organized around an Advisory Council and a Community Council each of whom advise the Board of Directors about human service needs and programs necessary to meet those needs.

Mr. Davis, the new executive, comes to his new job from Lewiston, Maine where he was Executive Director of a Comprehensive Community Mental Health Center for four years and Assistant Director of the same center for three years. Mr. Davis is a native of Gloucester, Mass. He received his B. A. Degree from Bates College in 1963 and his Master of Social Work Degree from the University of Michigan in 1965. Mr. Davis and his family reside in Newburyport.

Mr. Davis indicated that he is most interested in meeting with groups interested in human services and the work of the Association for Human Development. Inquiries concerning participation or membership in the Association should be addressed to:

Mr. William E. Davis, Executive Director, Region IV Association for Human Development, Inc., 15 Rawson Hill Road, Newburyport, Mass. 01950.

The Association is planning its annual meeting for November 15. Further information about this meeting will be forthcoming.

Itek Reports Loss

Itek Corporation today reported a loss of $969,000 or 33 cents a share on sales of $47,028,000 for the quarter ended Sept. 27. That compares with a profit of $991,000 or 35 cents a share on sales of $47,647,000 for the third quarter of 1973.

Included in these results is a provision of $400,000, or the equivalent of 7 cents a share, for the possible disposal of certain specialized equipment used for the manufacture of lithographic printing plates.

During the first nine months of 1974, Itek reported a loss of $810,000 or 28 cents a share on sales of $143,284,000 compared with a profit of $3,646,000 or $1.28 a share on sales of $147,855,000 in 1973.

Franklin A. Lindsay, Itek president, said the company's sales and operating income are running behind projected levels. The inflationary surge in the costs of labor and materials have contributed significantly to the company's operating results.

He said a downward trend in sales during the quarter occurred because of a softening of product demand at the Vision Optical and Graphic Products Divisions. Commercial sales for these two divisions were $2.6 million below the preceding quarter and their operating income fell approximately $1.5 million below the second quarter figure. Reduced domestic sales and increased losses from Itek's international operations resulted in a break-even quarter for the Graphic Products Division. In the Vision Optical Division, a five-week strike at the company's Guayama, P.R. eyeglass lens manufacturing plant and increased price competition in the vision care field also contributed to the earnings decline.

Government sales and earnings during the third quarter ran ahead of the preceding quarter, but continued to lag behind year earlier figures.

Mr. Lindsay said that the company is taking appropriate action to reverse the losses including the implementation of additional across-the-board reductions in operating expenses and manpower.

development districts. Through COGs, local officials can gain knowledge of available funds, share large and expensive equipment with neighboring governments or reduce cost by joint purchasing.
